THE SILVER CONVENTION.

A Gathering of Representative Men From Hill and Plain.

THE MOST ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING EVER HELD IN CARSON.

All United and Harmonious For a Common Interest---A Sound and Effective Declaration of Principles.

The delegates to the Silver Convention, held yesterday in the Carson Opera House, marched to the hall from the Arlington House headed by the Carson band. The place was soon packed with delegates and spectators. In the rear of the stage in large black letters on a white ground, was a condensed silver records of the Republican party which stands at the head of the APPEAL editorial columns and by its side the inscription: "The Democratic party stood pat in their war with silver with the G. O. P."

Above these two inscriptions were these words:

"By Their Works Ye Shall Know Them."

The stage and boxes were festooned with the national colors and at the right, hanging from a private box, was the silver flag presented by Geo. Nixon to the county polling the largest number of silver votes, and won by Eureka.

The Chairman's desk was draped with the American flag and a big American Eagle, with out stretched wings and holding a silver dollar in its beak, was perched upon it, forming a striking picture.

At 11 o'clock George Nixon, Chairman of the State Central Committee called the Convention to order. His appearance on the platform was warmly greeted by the convention.

GEORGE NIXON'S SPEECH.

He spoke as follows:

In calling to order this, the third convention of the Silver party of Nevada, I cannot refrain from congratulating you, the representatives of the party from the several counties in the State upon our great victory in the last election. When we met in Reno on the 24th day of June 1892 we were unorganized and an unknown quantity. On that day the valiant Silver party was born and only five months later fought one of the greatest political battles and won the most signal victory ever achieved in the arena of politics. (Applause.)

To-day we are perfectly organized and the carrying of the election in next November is an assured fact. No doubt whatever exists even in the mind of the most ardent follower of the old parties, although some do a great deal of whistling for the purpose of keeping up courage, that the Silver party will again place the gallant, and battle born State of Nevada in the front ranks of independence and again free her from the sinister influence of old partyism, which before the organization of the Silver party disgraced her in the eyes of every honest and patriotic voter in the State. (Cheers.)

Although we are assured of again defeating the twin relics of the days of old, I consider it my duty to advise you my friends to bury all personal ambition, except that of the purest kind, for the best interest of the party. Let entire harmony prevail and when the work of this convention is over, give to the people a platform and a ticket that will be hailed with delight and supported with enthusiasm by every voter in the State that is not a slave to the old parties. While the people of Nevada took such a bold stand two years ago and cut loose from former political affiliations for a principle and thus gained the admiration of the country for their independence in thought and action, it seems to me to be the true policy to maintain the organization and name of the Silver party until two years hence when a national ticket will be elected. (Cheers and a voice, That's right you bet.) Especially in view of the fact that there is such an upheaval of popular sentiment against the old twin falsehoods that we may reasonably conclude that the opposition sentiment will be so solidified in the South and West under one banner and under one name as to insure victory at the polls. [Applause] If that banner and that name shall be that of the Peoples' party, the people of Nevada will be with that party in name as well as in action so long as it has inscribed upon its design free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. [Applause.] I believe that the restoration of free coinage as we understand it is more important to the welfare of the country than the upbuilding of any political party now in existence.

It is results I am after and results are what the people want. Prosperity cannot be restored to the country through strikes, tariff or any panacea that has been proposed except free coinage of silver. Until free coinage is reached prices will continue to go lower and lower, and the purchasing power of gold will go higher and higher. Twenty years of experience on a falling market, and one years experience under a gold regime, are proofs that cannot be overthrown. The well being of our country depends on the silver cause. There is no question but that the independent position taken by Nevada in the last election has done more to advance the cause of silver than twenty years of voting for old party candidates would have done, (applause) although personally they might have advocated the principles of bimetalism at the ratio of 16 to 1, but with such a class the desire of party success is greater than the love of principle.

Nevada, little though she may be in the eyes of the rest of the great union of States, entered her protest against the thralldom of the Republican and Democratic parties with no uncertain voice in 1892. She will do the same this year as the result will testify when the sun goes down on the 6th day of November, and will stand before the world as a State true to her citizens, true to herself, and true to the paramount question now before the American people, the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 independent of any other nation. (Cheers and applause.)

Since the name, Silver Party of Nevada, is such a thorn in the sides, and causes such indescribable pawing of the ground by the twin breed of political cattle in the State branded "Republicans" and "Democrats," and because such hallowed associations cluster around it, baptized as it was by the life blood of George W. Cassidy, one of our great and gallant silver advocates and acknowledged leader of men, I for one am in favor of again marching to victory under the name of the Silver Party. [Applause.]

Gentlemen, nominations for temporary Chairman of the Convention are now in order.

Mr. Wren was nominated by acclamation.

Mr. Wren was greeted with cheers and taking the chair delivered a sound and logical speech on the silver question which called forth hearty applause from the Convention. The speech was in Mr. Wren's characteristic vein; full of sound logic and sledge hammer blows for the cause. Its length prevents a full report in these columns.

After appointing the usual committees, the Convention took a recess until 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

In the evening session Dr. Bergstein of Reno was chosen permanent Chairman, A. C. Pratt, Secretary; J. Q. A. Moore, Sergeant at Arms and J. C. Kennedy, Assistant Sergeant at Arms. Dr. Bergstein in taking the Chair stirred the delegates with as rousing speech which added to the general enthusiasm.
